

Brooklyn College Professor Review || CISC

Brooklyn

Has anyone taken Ariel Zabloski as their professor before? CISC 3320. How is he in terms of exam question pattern, marking and teaching?

Also, has anyone taken David Arnow for CISC 1115?

Upvote

2

Downvote

4

Go to comments

Share

Sort by:

Best

Search Comments

Expand comment search

Comments Section

You should check web central for course evaluations to see what previous students say. I believe zabloski is new so not sure. Also lots of classes between 1115 and 3320 just curious. Heard overall okay about arnow although i will say if its online and you never had coding experience it might be hard well, I did competitive programming with python before. As for Zabloski, yea he is probably new. where on Web central do you look? Im new to CUNY so I don't know

Okay then you should be good although idk theres roomers abt the first test u take caps ur grade not sure didnt take him. How can you be planning for taking 1115 and 3320 at the same time? And on bc webcentral look under academics for bc feedback report

I am a transfer student, got most of my 2000 level courses transferred, along with a few 3000 level ones. Only this one course is left from pre 2000 level courses.